The Rebate amount will not be paid earlier than 48 hours since the related Commission was generated.
- 2) As a result of the above payment into your trading account, these credited funds will become part of your 'margin' which might be used to support any open positions that you may have at the time of the payment of the said Rebates and might potentially not be available for withdrawal.
- 3) The Introducer may offer more than one auto-rebate Programs, and each Program may have different terms, conditions and specifications regarding the Rebate amount that is paid to Introduced Clients.
- 4) Rebates is a percentage/amount of the Commissions earned based on the respective Introduced Client's trading activity, as determined in the specific Auto-rebate Program that the specific trading account participates to (i.e., it depends on the financial instrument on which the Introduced Clients trade on and the specifications of the auto-rebate Program that the Client participates to).
- 5) The terms, conditions and specifications of the said plan are solely determined by the Introducer and may be amended, at the Introducer's sole discretion, without prior notice given to you. It is hereby clarified that the configuration of the auto-rebates functionality and the respective terms, conditions and specifications of such payments is the sole responsibility of the Introducer, as the Company does not interfere in any way to the determination of the percentage/amount and/or any other terms, conditions and specifications set out by the Introducer.
- 6) Without prejudice to any other provision herein, the Company is not a party of the relationship between you and the Introducer, it shall only facilitate the automatic payment of such amounts (i.e. Rebates) into your trading account and is not in any other way involved with the auto-rebate plan that the Introducer offers at his/her sole discretion.
- 7) The payment of Rebates shall be made to your trading account provided that the generated Introducer's Commission is not the result of Fraud Traffic and/or of any trading activity that is in violation of our Company's Terms and Conditions of Business or the Introducers' Agreement, which govern the business relationship between you and the Company and the business relationship between the Introducer and the Company, respectively.
- 8) Should the trading activity/behaviour on your trading account(s) be detected violating the Company's Terms and Conditions of Business and/or the Introducers' Agreement or should the Commissions generated relate to allegedly fraudulent accounts or should you be found using strategies aimed at deriving profit from Introducers' Commissions and Rebates to the detriment of legitimate trading, the Company reserves the right to cancel the Commissions generated from such accounts and exclude you from participating to the Program.
- 9) Numerous 'buy' and/or 'sell' transactions on any financial instruments and any other trading patterns that indicate that such transactions are carried out by you with the sole aim of generating Commissions are considered as transactions conducted in collusion with the Introducer, even if your information (such as IP address, contact details, etc.) does not have any direct intersection with the Introducer. The Commissions as well as the Rebates derived from such transactions will be cancelled and the respective payment to the Introducer and/or Introduced Client shall not be made. The Company also reserves the right to terminate the business relationship with you and/or the Introducer.

- 10) In the case that a credit/debit card chargeback request is submitted by you, all Rebate amounts shall be cancelled.
